In the Diversity Center in the Union

We can't wait to meet everyone! The venue has been changed to the Diversity Center in the Union. We'll be having pizza, getting to know one another, and talking about the kinds of projects we would like to work on during the semester.

What are the things you're most passionate about? Be sure to bring those thoughts.

Day of Heroes

Wednesday, Sept. 11th

4-6pm

At Tri Cycle Farms off Garland Ave

In Washington County, 37% of children go hungry. We are also the 3rd highest food insecure county in Arkansas. 43% of Tri Cycle Farms neighbors residing within one mile live below poverty line. There are three food pantries, a school with the highest free and reduced lunch program at 79% and a free meal served every Sunday across the street called Sunday Supper. Together as a community "We Can" change these numbers.

This Wednesday, let's come together for an evening of service and to make an impact. Tri Cycle Farms is expanding their capacity and sustainability and you can help. This is a day which celebrates that every little bit makes a huge difference. You can drop in anytime between 4 and 6. When we are done, we will split a watermelon together. What to bring? Water bottles, clothes that can get dirty and gloves if you have them. Where to park? Trinity United Methodist Church in Fayetteville just across the street from the farm. This is a construction zone so take extra care when crossing Garland.

We'd love for you to join us!

Tri Cycle Farms is a large urban community garden hidden away on the corner of Garland Avenue and Sycamore Street... not far from campus. Just last year alone, thousands of pounds of produce were delivered to food pantries and families in all around Fayetteville.
