Women and War

Women Acting in New Directions - WAND

For women, the impact of modern warfare is devastatingly similar across all conflicts. Yet, within these same conflicts women are also emerging as critical actors of peace, mobilizing communities across religious and ethnic divides, and using their social roles and networks to mitigate violence and mediate peace.

On July 24, WAND hosted a webinar called "The Essential Role of Women in Building Peace and Security," This webinar highlighted the importance of promoting the role of women as agents of change in political life, conflict prevention, and peace-building.
