OMNI TAKES ON BIG MEDIA, WILL YOU HELP?

All of us know that corporate controlled media is one of the biggest obstacles our nation faces in dealing with the huge problems before us. You may also remember that for a couple of years the Omni Center has been talking about moving into radio activism as a way to break away from corporate control, and to carry our message to some of those hard-to-reach conservative folks in our area. We have been preparing for the opportunity to act. Now, the time has come, but we have to move quickly.

On October 12, a brief FCC filing window opens when non-profits like Omni can apply for a license to operate OUR OWN RADIO STATION. A small group of Omni members have been slaving long hours preparing complex forms and arranging a thousand details to have a perfect application to submit to the FCC. We're almost there. However, the application is only the first step in a long process.

We have an exciting possibility of delivering the message of peace, justice and an earth restored, across Northwest Arkansas. Think of how many more people we can reach, and you can be part of this new adventure. "Imagine calling in and expressing your opinion on the air, interviewing national activists, speakers and authors, being interviewed about your art or expertise. Think about producing, or even hosting, your own radio show. With local non-profit community radio, you can do all this and much more!"

Even though, as a non profit, Omni gets its station license for free, we still have to build our own transmitter and pay our own bills. That will cost a great deal of money, but we are so confident that the value we create together will be worth it, that we're taking the risk. We believe that you will want to join us. We're looking forward to many of you wanting to step into one fun volunteer jobs, and we are confident that you will be willing to contribute financially to establish independent community radio in Northwest Arkansas.

This is the biggest and most expensive project that Omni has ever undertaken, and we need your help. To prove to the FCC that we have community support, we need assurance that you can pledge some amount to Omni Free Radio when the license is issued. If you are willing to pledge toward community radio, send no money now, but email Gladys Tiffany at gladystiffany@yahoo.com, or Joe Newman at jdaanew@sbcglobal.net. We can give you the details and answer your questions. This is our chance to have an independent voice on the airwaves; we can't let it slip away. Please email as soon as possible.

OMNI CALENDAR OF UPCOMING EVENTS

October 2, Tuesday, Gandhi’s Birthday—International Day of Non-Violence

October 2, Tuesday, 11:00 am, in Room 130 of the Capitol building in Little Rock - It’s been a long haul, but the Governor’s Commission on Global Warming will hold its first meeting. Northwest Arkansas Commissioners are Art Hobson, Cindy Sager, Robert McAfee and Elizabeth Martin. They have approximately one year to develop an effective plan for Arkansas to address global warming issues. It’s quite a task. If you know any of these fine environmentalists, do what you can to encourage them.

Over the next year Omni hope to publicize the work of the GW Commission as widely as possible. You can help by passing information and press releases on to your lists, by being aware of their work and discussing it wherever you can. There may also be opportunities for committee work in association with the Commission that may emerge once they organize themselves. Omni members will want to stay tuned for areas where they feel they can contribute.

Commission meetings are open to the public, and we’re all invited to attend. Can anyone take a trip to Little Rock on Tuesday to observe the first meeting, and maybe carpool, to reduce CO2? If you go, how about sharing your experience with all of us by sending a brief report to the newsletter editor?

October 6, Saturday, 10:30 a.m., Fayetteville Public Library, Omni Rapid Responders Letter Writers meeting. For more information, contact Larry Woodall la_wood@earthlink.net

October 7, Sunday, 7:00 p.m., Open Mic for Peace - This month’s Open Mic for Peace is going to be FAMILY ORIENTED! We have never done this theme and are very excited about it.

We encourage FAMILIES and CHILDREN to participate. We ask that our REGULAR Open Mickers to challenge themselves by bringing a song or poem about Peace, Justice or Ecology that is for KIDS or is FAMILY FRIENDLY!

This is a great opportunity to stretch beyond our boundaries and get more young people involved in Omni.

We encourage ya’ll to bring a snack to share with everyone. We will provide a healthy JUICY drink and the usual coffee and tea!

Join us for OPEN MIC FOR FAMILIES, Sunday, October 7 at 7:00 pm. The program usually runs until 9:00 p.m., but since it is a school night, we will have the CHILDREN and FAMILY Open Mic offerings early in the evening to accommodate families who need to leave before 9:00 to get home for bedtime.
PLEASE spread the word. Still on the Hill will be hosting this special evening.

If you have questions email still@stillonthehill.com

LOCALLY:

NATIONAL CONVERSATION ON CLIMATE ACTION ON UA CAMPUS

Thinking of being more green? Wondering what you can do to help the planet? Would you like to band together with others of a similar mindset to make a difference? On Thursday, October 4, you can take part in the National Conversation on Climate Action, sponsored by Yale University School of Forestry and Environmental Sciences and hosted by the University of Arkansas. 100 cities across America will participate in this event.

Dr. Kevin Robbins, climate scientist from Louisiana State University, will give a lecture on climate change from 1:00-2:00. He will be followed by a progress report from the University of Arkansas on their climate initiatives. The City of Fayetteville will give a brief presentation on city initiatives. Then it’s your turn!

From 2:30-3:45, we will break into small groups to focus on various environmental actions: everything from recycling to green purchasing decisions to alternative transportation and trails. Green schools, green churches, green businesses. What can you do, at home, at work, and in your community to reduce your carbon footprint? At the end of the breakouts, we will tally all of the climate action commitment cards to find out what our collective impact can be.

Invite your neighbors and friends. Invite your colleagues. Let’s see what we can do to reduce our impact on the planet. Join us on Thursday, October 4, 1:00-4:00p.m., Auditorium of Walker Hall (new building, located on Harmon Street, parking garage is just across the street)

CHRIS PAINE, WRITER/DIRECTOR OF WHO KILLED THE ELECTRIC CAR TO VISIT UA CAMPUS

Writer/Director Chris Paine's documentary feature film Who Killed the Electric Car? premiered at the Sundance Film Festival in 2006 before its release by Sony Pictures to critical acclaim in 100 U.S. markets. The film was the third highest-grossing theatrical documentary of 2006 and screened with An Inconvenient Truth in many markets.

This film was nominated: Best Documentary - Environmental Media Awards (2006), won: Special Jury Prize - Mountain Film (Telluride) (2006), nominated: Best Documentary - Writers Guild of America, won: Audience Award - Canberra International Film Festival, nominated: 2007 Best Documentary Feature - Broadcast Film Critics Association.

The film will be shown on Tuesday, October 9, 6:00 p.m. in the University of Arkansas Union Theater. The showing is free and open to the public. Following the film, writer/director Chris Paine will be on hand for a Question and Answer session.

PUBLIC FORUM AT THE JONES CENTER

There have been people from the Marshall Islands living in Northwest Arkansas for over two decades, yet both the Marshallese and U.S. natives have some fundamental questions related to their status: What are the rights to U.S. citizenship of the Marshallese? What social programs are they eligible for? What rights and responsibilities are defined by the Compact of Free Association, and what is under state control? The Jones Center is hosting a forum on the Compact of Free Association to try to answer these and other questions on October 9 from 6:00-8:30 PM (in Marshallese) and October 10 from 9:00-11:30 AM (in English).

DAILY KOS FOUNDER TO SPEAK IN FAYETTEVILLE

Markos Moulitsas, founder of the Daily Kos, is coming to Fayetteville on October 24, speaking up on the UA campus at 7:00 p.m. in the J.B Hunt Building, across Dickson Street from the Greek Theater. It is free and open to the public. Daily Kos, the most-read political blog in the world, has struck a nerve with millions of Americans and revitalized political awareness in this country.

ADVERTISE YOUR EVENTS ON THE OMNI WEBSITE

The OMNI website is an untapped resource for Omni volunteers. We’d really like to advertise what you’re doing. The more OMNI is known in the community, the more visits we get from members of the press gathering information about projects and upcoming events, and we want yours to be there.

Omni has an interactive calendar where you can self-post your information. Click on the calendar link, and it walks you through the simple posting process. Please use it whenever you have an event or project that you think will be of interest to Omni members.

If you are working on an Omni-Sponsored event, we’d like to put a front-page link to your poster or flyer, and more detailed information.

To post Omni-sponsored events, email your flyers, posters and press releases to Melanie melaniedietzel@cox.net, Gladys gladystiffany@yahoo.com, or Dick jbennet@uark.edu, and we’ll help you get it posted.

Once your event is over, please notify us to remove it from the webpage. The webmaster only removes items when we tell him that they need to come off. We hope that you’ll take advantage of this resource.

IRAN WATCH: PREVENT ANOTHER US INVASION

Watch for forthcoming OMNI events concerning Bush’s threatened invasion of Iran:
What is Critical Thinking?

Critical Thinking is the use of knowledge, facts, science, evidence, logic to evaluate and understand ideas and information, to detect falsehood, and to form conclusions, judgments, and inferences.

Why do we need it?

- Today, more than ever before, we are bombarded with commercial and political propaganda. Clear Thinking enables us to decide if what we read and hear is true, factual, biased, or manipulative.
- Clear Thinking also enables us to recognize our own fallacious thinking, biases, and assumptions.
- Reasoning together through knowledge and language is an alternative to violence. The practice of Critical Thinking helps, by creating active, informed citizens, invigorates democracy. "Critical thinking skills" imply an ability to analyze ideas, stories, claims, and assertions both through relevant, factual knowledge and by training in analysis and by being able to think for oneself. Independent mindedness and autonomy have long been considered essential to a democracy since President Jefferson.

These awards are sponsored by OMNI Center for Peace, Justice, and Ecology.
We at OMNI are devoted to the advancement of reasoned contemplation and conversation about issues that affect our community and world. We seek to extend the influence of reason and informed debate. The deadline for nominations in May 1, 2008.

INVITATIONS TO TEACHERS, THE OMNI CRITICAL THINKING AWARDS

Washington and Benton counties public school teachers from all disciplines are invited to fill out an application and submit materials about their teaching of Critical Thinking. The awards recognize both specific teaching units or projects and teachers who incorporate clear thinking into their everyday classes.

County committees of local citizens chosen from various walks of life will evaluate the applications. When the committee has made its decision, OMNI will offer one $500 award to the Washington County teacher and one $500 award to the Benton Country teacher who has been selected as the most outstanding. (More information is available on OMNI's website (www.omnicenter.org). Also contact the coordinators: Lynda Haley-Brothers, Washington County (teacherhuman@cox.net) and Carole Westby, Benton County (westbyforhouse98@cox.net).
RECRUITING OPT - OUT FORMS
Parents and Teens - Back to School Information That You Need

Hi Omni folk. Do you have a teenager in high school this fall? Do you know someone else who does? If so, be sure they know about the dark side of "No Child Left Behind." Remind your friends that, as part of NCLB Act, the contact information of all 18 year olds is packed up and sent to the Pentagon for military recruiting, UNLESS the teen or his/her parent or guardian sends in a form that opts them out of the system -- an "Opt Out Form". Prior to this provision, many of the nation’s high schools refused recruiters' requests for students' names or access to campus because they believed it was inappropriate.

Now all high schools that rely on federal funding must aid the Pentagon in targeting minors to coerce them into entering the military. However, if parents or student fill out a written request form, the students name can be removed from the list provided to the Pentagon.

This form is supposed to be available in every high school, but it sometimes "gets lost." You can find the forms in English and Spanish on Omni’s website at: www.omnicenter.org

There are other sites where you can find versions of the forms, and lots more information about recruiting practices. They include:

CREW RELEASES THIRD ANNUAL MOST CORRUPT MEMBERS OF CONGRESS REPORT.
To get the full report, visit http://www.citizensforethics.org/node/30131

NOTES FROM CODE PINK;

CODEPINK has created a Prevent War with Iran page filled with simple, effective actions you can do to help stop the next war now. We are highlighting two of those actions this week:

Download our No War With Iran sign and place it in your window at home and work, or carry it out on the street, to remind people that we have the power to prevent this war.

Write a Letter to the Editor, using our sample letter or your own heart-felt message, to make your desire for peace heard in a public forum.

We also urge you to call your Reps early and often (House and Senate, 202 224 3121) and tell them to vote NO on bombing Iran. There is some scary legislation on the table (especially the Kyl-Lieberman amendment) that could lead to an imminent attack; we need to quash it immediately.
Other actions on our Iran page include getting your town to pass a resolution encouraging diplomacy, not war, with Iran; inviting someone from our speakers bureau to speak about Iran in your community; going on a citizens’ diplomacy trip to Iran; and signing our petitions to Congress and the UN Security Council.

ECHOING GREEN’S 2008 FELLOWSHIP APPLICATION

Do you want to start a for-profit business, but you want to save the world more? You might be a social entrepreneur.

April Ambrose from Little Rock sent us information about an amazing source of funding for social entrepreneurs who want to work green. She knows two folks in Arkansas that got this grant last funding cycle!

To access the new application, please check our website, www.echoinggreen.org.

The fellowship offers the following benefits to those with an innovative idea for social change and a start-up organization (or the desire to create one):

* Up to $90,000 in seed funding
* Technical support to expedite your launch and growth
* Access to a network of hundreds of experienced social entrepreneurs

If you’d like to apply, look on the easy-to-find Fellowship Application page. www.echoinggreen.org.
