In the North Tower,

He breaks the window glass

Takes one deep breath

Steps out

Leaning

Past fear

Into weightlessness….” From “One Way” by Carol Dine, in Poems Against War.

ARKANSAS MARCH 12, 2013

PERFORMANCE: MUSIC AND POETRY ABOUT WAR

Soldiers Heart: Songs and Stories of War, Peace and Healing
By Jacob David George

Tuesday, March 12, 2013 - 6:00pm until 8:00pm

This will be the first of a couple of live performances in Fayetteville, Arkansas sharing a new collection of music by Jacob George and Adam Cox. They wrote the album together over the winter to help share stories and shine light on the often dark and misunderstood nature of war. This album focuses on Post Traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD) and how we are all touched by it. The album title is Soldiers Heart, a reference to the American Civil War term for PTSD.

Bio:

Jacob George is a three tour veteran of Operation Enduring Freedom (OEF) turned peace activist. He served as a paratrooper in the United States Army Special Operation Command (USASOC) between 2001-2004, and was honorably discharged as sergeant. Jacob is a cofounder of A Ride Till The End (ARTTE), which is a veteran lead perpetual bicycle protest of the Afghan War and is based out of Fayetteville, Arkansas. The ride began on May 1, 2010 and has covered over 8,000 miles in the U.S. Jacob returned to Afghanistan in the summer of 2011 with Voices For Creative Nonviolence to work with and hear stories of Afghans struggling for peace and has been sharing those stories with music and poetry while riding his bicycle around the country. The musical platform is folk/bluegrass in combination with storytelling and explores the overall impact of war on Afghans, U.S. soldiers, U.S. citizens and our “enemies”.

Eight members of the Wounded Warriors were sitting around a campfire Friday just before noon warming up after an early morning deer hunt near Millwood Lake. The warriors had been taken to the Beard’s Bluff Overlook for an outdoor lunch on the east side of the lake.

Feelings of Guilt May Be Top Factor in PTSD

Gregg Zoroya, USA Today, Nov. 26, 2011, RSN

Gregg Zoroya reports: "The idea of 'moral injury' as a cause of PTSD is new to psychiatry. The American Psychiatric Association is only now considering new diagnostic criteria for the disorder that would include feelings of shame and guilt, says David Spiegel, a member of the working group rewriting the PTSD section. Traditionally, PTSD symptoms such as nightmares or numbness to the world have been linked to combat violence, fear of being killed or loss of friends."
