WINKER LABOR DAY POTLUCK PICNIC AT WINKLER HOME, West Fork, 5:30, September 2, last year the spirit of solidarity with the remnant of union members and friends was invigorating, in a nation ruled by industrial power militant against organized labor.
L.A. UNIONS WELCOME AFL-CIO

Union leaders and activists from around the country in Los Angeles on Sept. 8 for the AFL-CIO Convention will get a close look at a regional labor movement with membership numbers holding steady or even slightly increasing. Compare this with much of the United States where the percentage of workers represented by unions is dropping rapidly and persistently. Los Angeles, more than most cities (and California, more than most states), has stayed a step ahead of an employer-class determined to cleanse the global economy of collective worker power. WHERE'S YOUR RAISE? A NEW CALCULATOR FROM EPI EXPLAINS

Today, the Economic Policy Institute (EPI) launched an online wage calculator that lets people see what their wages should be if based on increases in worker productivity and if most companies didn't fail to adequately compensate workers for those gains. For example, if you are a worker who makes $40,000 a year and you enter that salary into the calculator, it tells you that you should be making $62,529 if your wages had kept up with productivity increases. WORKING FAMILIES TO PARTICIPATE IN 160 RALLIES FOR A ROAD MAP TO CITIZENSHIP OVER LABOR DAY WEEKEND

On the heels of nearly 200 labor-led actions that already have been held in support of a comprehensive immigration policy that includes a road map to citizenship, working families will participate in more Labor Day weekend events around the country. Most of the events will focus on calling on House Republicans to quit holding immigration policy hostage and for them to do the right thing on behalf of aspiring Americans. Read more >>>

DO YOU KNOW WHAT TPP IS? YOU SHOULD. IT'S GOING TO AFFECT YOU

Corporations are trying to hijack a trade agreement that is currently being negotiated in secret. It's called the Trans-Pacific Partnership (TPP), and if they're successful, they'll have a say in everything from your rights at work to the prices of your prescriptions and safety of your child's toys. Working families around the world are going to be affected by the outcome of this legislation. Read more >>>

GOOGLE SEARCH AUGUST 31, 2013, for LABOR DAY SEPT. 1, 2013, [Little of value listed. GOOGLE celebrates the demise of the labor movement? “ Labor Day is the farewell to summer celebration. Although it was originally a federal holiday designed to celebrate the social and economic contributions of workers following the Pullman Strike, it has become the last hoorah to summer before school and sweater weather days begin. It is a chance to appreciate the beautiful outdoors with cookouts and time in the sun in a way that we wish we would have done more often over the now fading summer days.”
